2. The original approval of this project allocated [ ] to cover costs and fee; however, a CPAP contract was negotiated by the Office of Logistics which specifically committed only [ ] to cover costs.
Funding for the fee, which could range [ ] depending on the level of performance and subject to an [ ] sharing arrangement for all costs under or over the original estimate, was not included in the contract.

3. In 1966, the Contractor requested additional funds and NPIC recommended that they be paid on an overrun basis; however, the contract was amended on a change-in-scope basis and again funds were not committed to cover the fee.

4. In 1967, the contract was again amended whereby the minimum fee was stated [ ] Although this amendment was executed, there were no funds available in the contract to cover this fee. The Technical Development Staff believes that the Contractor is only justified in recovering [ ] the minimum fee on the originally approved costs (with no fee for the overrun). However, the contract clearly states that [ ] is the minimum fee (based on the change of scope) and OL maintains that this amount must be paid. Therefore, if this fact is substantiated by OL it is requested that [ ] be approved, as additional funding for the subject contract to permit final settlement.
